UC Berkeley’s Department of Environmental Science, Policy & Management presents the

FORESTRY SUMMER FIELD PROGRAM

a.k.a. Forestry Summer Camp

Interested in forest ecology, ecosystem function, and natural resource management? Forestry Summer Camp is the place for you!

8 Weeks (June 20-August 13)
10 Upper Division Units
5 Classes--ESPM 101A- E
  • Sierra Nevada Ecology
  • Silviculture
  • Forest Measurements, Aerial Photography, & Surveying
  • Timber Resource Utilization
  • Forest Resource Management

Interested in forest ecology, ecosystem function, and natural resource management? Forestry Summer Camp is the place for you!

Located in the middle of Plumas National Forest, near Quincy, California $2500 for room, board, and materials fees for the 8-week course.

Only one more class required for a Forestry Minor at U.C. Berkeley!

Applications are due March 25, 2004 & are available in 131 Mulford or online at http://espm.berkeley.edu/summcamp offered through UC Berkeley Summer Sessions; see summer.berkeley.edu for information on registration fees