ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Production of Volume 15 of Quaestiones Entomologicae was overseen by two Editors, acting consecutively. Douglas A. Craig served as editor while I enjoyed the delights of a year's sabbatical leave, returning just in time to attend to the last details in production of the fourth issue. I thank Dr. Craig not only for his work on most of this volume, but also for his contributions to publication of issues 3 and 4 of Volume 14.

During Douglas Craig's term as Editor, we transferred from using a Selectric Composer to use of an electronic computer for setting up the issues. Although electronic computers may be expected to ultimately ease the task of production of copy for printing, initially a lot of work is involved, both by editor and operator. So, I am pleased to express my deep appreciation not only to Douglas, but also to Twyla Gibson, who acquired the necessary expertise to employ a computer for our work.

On behalf of Dr. Craig, I record appreciation of the efforts of the following persons, who acted at his request as referees of papers published in this volume:

- J.A. Downes, Biosystematics Research Institute, Ottawa, Ontario;
- J.L. Eaton, Department of Entomology, Virginia Polytechnic and State University, Blacksburg, Virginia;
- R.W. Merritt, Department of Entomology, Michigan State University, Lansing, Michigan;
- G.R. Mullen, Department of Zoology-Entomology, Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama;
- A.P. Nimmo, Department of Entomology, University of Alberta;
- H.G. Philip, Entomology Laboratory, Plant Industry Laboratory, Agriculture Alberta.

Maria Figueroa, Department of Economics, University of Alberta, prepared the Spanish translation of the abstract for one of the papers. Henri Goulet, Biosystematics Research Institute, Ottawa and Jean-François Landry, a graduate student in my Department, provided French translations of abstracts of several papers.

Again, I take pleasure in thanking staff members of Printing Services, University of Alberta, for their excellent work in production of this volume.
